Diesel Topples, Kills 29

Coroner Is Delayed
In Identification
Because Victims
Are Badly Mangled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A two-car Santa Fe diesel train, its engineer apparently blacked out, rounded a curve too fast last night and toppled over, killing an estimated 29 persons and injuring at least 90 in one of California's worst railroad disasters.

Bodies were so badly mangled and dismembered—some were decapitated—that the coroner's office had difficulty identifying them and determining exactly how many were in the morgue. At least two were children.

Deputy Coroner Richard Davis said, "We believe that there are 30 bodies here."

The highest rail death toll in this state was 32 in 1907.

The train last night was en route to San Diego — 125 miles south of here—with 161 passengers, about 40 per cent of them servicemen returning to their bases. The two cars overturned on their left sides a few minutes after leaving the station here at 5:30 p.m. It was dark.

"The people sitting on the left side where sucked right out of the window and caught on the ties when the train crashed on its side," said flagman Bill Hines, one of the crew of five. "Those people didn't have a chance."

Sparks showered as both overturned cars skidded along with a deadly screeching sound for about 200 feet on the outside of the curve. Each car contained a diesel unit and room for 86 passengers. The accident happened inside the city limits, about four miles from Union Depot.

Thousands of housebound motorists, hearing of the wreck on their car radios, drove to the scene, creating a serious traffic jam and delaying some ambulances.

Stunned, injured survivors lay set or stood along the ground. Some searched for missing relatives. Many of the badly injured screamed in pain and panic.

Santa Fe President Fred G. Gurley said in Chicago:

"All indications are the accident was caused by undue speed."

Raymond D. Shelton, general manager for Santa Fe's coast lines, said, "Engineer Frank Parrish estimated his speed at the time of the derailment at 50 m.p.h. I think this curve would take about 40 M.P.H."

Warsaw Mothers Hold Annual March on Polio

The 1956 Mothers' March Against Polio will swing into action in Warsaw at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 31. The traditional "porchlight parade" which is scheduled for two hours, from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m., will be sponsored by the Warsaw Mothers' Club in a drive for funds to aid those suffering from infantile paralysis.

During the march, 15 club mothers will make a door-to-door canvass for contributions to aid the polio fight.

According to custom, home owners who wish to give will signify their desire by turning on their porchlights or by leaving a lamp in the front window. Apartment dwellers will do so by hanging a handkerchief or a bit of ribbon on the front doorknob.

To make sure that every house in Warsaw is covered, the area will be broken down into four districts. The dividing lines will be north and south of Jackson street and east and west of the caution light on Highway 65 intersecting Jackson St.

Congressman Worried Over Water Supply

Hull Criticizes
Government Failure
To Act on Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increasing concern over dwindling water supplies in parts of Missouri was voiced today by Rep. Hull (D-Mo.).

He also criticized what he described as failure of the government to act promptly on some loan applications for water supply projects.

The Missouri congressman told a reporter that the water situation in his state for both town and agricultural use was "serious in spots."

"We should take every means we can to conserve the water that falls," Hull said. "There should be increased terracing, increased construction of farm ponds and drilling more wells where needed with government aid."

"But when the people, facing a water shortage, go to the federal government for a loan, it should not take government agencies so long to get the applications processed."

Last fall, he said, the town of Dearborn, Mo., which had voted bonds to increase its water supply, applied to the federal government for a loan in connection with engineering plans.

The application was approved by the Fort Worth regional office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency's community facilities division and then was forwarded to Washington for final clearance, he explained.

He added that community facilities officials have advised him they have no objection to the application, but that its final clearance is awaiting action by the health, education and welfare agency.

"This application was submitted last September and still has not finally cleared," Hull said.

Committee Presents Slate Favorable To Adlai Stevenson

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A committee was working toward drawing up a slate of delegate candidates "favorable" to Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The New Hampshire primary March 13 is the first in the nation. Stevenson already has said he would not campaign in the primary, where Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) has been active for the state's eight convention votes.

However, a candidate's consent is not necessary when a slate runs as "favorable" to a candidate, compared with a slate that is "pledged" to a presidential hopeful.

The committee is scheduled to meet tonight to plan for a gathering of Democratic leaders next Sunday. The pro-Stevenson slate is expected to be announced at that time.

Chairman of the committee is William L. Dunfee of Hampton, president of the Young Democrats of New Hampshire.

Senator Is Appointed To Bird Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.) has been appointed to the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission by Vice President Nixon. He replaces Sen. Robertson (D-Va.).

The other members are Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), Reps. Karsten (D-Mo.) and Andersen (R-Minn.) and the secretaries of interior, agriculture and commerce.

The commission passes on land or water areas recommended for migratory bird refuges, and determines site prices and rentals.

Arkansas School Flurry

Negro Children Try
To Enroll for Next
Term at Little Rock
Central High School

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A group of Negro children attempted to enroll for the spring semester at Little Rock Central High School, the state's largest high school, and other schools in a surprise move here today.

The Negro students were turned away by Virgil Blossom, superintendent of Little Rock schools.

He said the enrollment applications would be denied in line with the announced school board policy of postponing racial integration.

Officials of the Arkansas State Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, accompanied by some of the students, met with Blossom.

After the meeting with school officials, the Negro leaders said their next step may be an appeal to the courts, but "only as a last resort."

Little Rock public schools were petitioned last year by the NAACP, which asked for immediate integration in Little Rock schools. At that time the school board said it planned to integrate the races first at the high school level, probably in two or three years. After that, the school said, it planned to integrate at the junior high level, then at the elementary level.

Blossom said high school integration hinges on the completion of a new high school building, possibly by late 1957.

Eight Negro girls, all students at Horace Mann High School, appeared at Central High School this morning. They said they were seeking enrollment by transfer. They were accompanied by Mrs. L. C. Bates of Little Rock, state NAACP president, and F. W. Smith of North Little Rock, NAACP field representative for Arkansas.

One Negro boy appeared at Little Rock Tech High School seeking enrollment, and four Negro children and three Negro adults went to Forest Heights Junior High School. Fourteen Negro students and four adults appeared at Forest elementary school.

In each instance, the Negroes went to the school principal. And, in each case, they were told to contact Blossom.

"I want to be as kind as I can," Blossom told the Negroes, "but I'll have to deny your request. This is in line with the policy outlined to you."

More than 400 delegates are expected here for the conference to hear talks on the need for better flood control measures and other aspects of an improved national water policy.

The conference is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in cooperation with the Engineers Joint Council and the National Water Conservation Conference.

Says Violence Is Futile—

Central Committee of India's Legislature Warns People of Situation 'Full of Peril'

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The high command of Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party warned Indians today their dissension over creation of new states has created "a dangerous situation full of peril to the nation."

A 1,009-word resolution, reportedly drafted by the Prime Minister himself, declared the central government would not be swayed by violence such as that which swept Bombay last week to protest loss of the city as capital of a new Maharashtra state.

Most Congress party pronouncements amount to statements of official government policy since the party completely dominates the administration under Nehru.

The Bombay protests, strikes and street battles, compounded by sabotage, arson and looting, have been followed by similar outbreaks in Calcutta, Orissa State, Punjab and other points—bringing the greatest domestic crisis the Nehru government has faced in the six years of the republic.

Bombay police reported 36 deaths have been confirmed in the week of disorders in that state, but reliable informants said the toll more probably was near 400 and that thousands were injured.

The resolution—entitled "A Call to the Nation"—was released following a four-hour meeting yesterday of the Congress party Central Committee at Nehru's official residence. It said the Bombay disturbances "imperil the future of India and her people" and urged Indians "not to allow any differences of opinion over relatively minor matters to come in the way of the nation's larger efforts."

It declared the Bombay riots "disgrace and dishonor Bombay and India." Without naming any specific group, the resolution said "disruptive forces have been at work in the guise of linguistic provinces but often with other aims in view." Bombay State authorities claim Communists were largely responsible for inciting and directing the disorders there, working on the emotions of the Marathi-speaking people who want the city as their capital when Bombay State is split next October between Marathas and Gujaratis.

Nehru addressed the committee meeting yesterday in what one member described as "one of the most moving speeches ever heard, bringing tears to many eyes."

He said Nehru asked, "Who lives if India dies, and who dies if India lives?"

The Prime Minister appealed to opponents of the government plan to use constitutional methods and not take the law into their own hands, the informant said.

He reported that Nehru referred to the "necessity for repeated firings (by police) and the resulting loss of life," and asked, "What government can afford to sit on the fence and watch hoodlums take over affairs, indulge in arson, looting . . . and murder?"

While the violence generally simmered down over the weekend, authorities moved to take precautionary measures against possible outbreaks on Thursday, Indian Republic Day.

Troops moved into Bombay's exclusive bay area and began throwing up barbed wire enclosures around plush apartment buildings. Searchlights swept wide areas during the night.

Charges Stassen Impeded

Senate Group Says
He Tried to Hinder
Check of Pakistan
Grain Bin Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Investigations subcommittee said today Harold E. Stassen tried to "hinder and impede" its inquiry last spring into a Pakistan grain bin project he had approved in his old job of foreign aid director.

In a majority report to the Senate the subcommittee said its investigation uncovered "strong evidence of collusion" by others which Stassen should have detected, and against which he should have taken precautions.

Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) filed a vigorous dissent that the majority report is "inaccurate and unfair."

Stassen now is President Eisenhower's top adviser on disarmament problems. He was not immediately available for comment.

The inquiry dealt with a decision he made in December, 1954, as director of the Foreign Operations Administration. The decision was to award to the Agricultural Construction Co. of Los Angeles, a government contract to build two 15,000-ton grain storage elevators in Pakistan.

After the investigation started, Stassen rejected all the bids and the contract never was awarded.

The majority report, filed by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), said the investigation was "hampered by the delaying tactics of Mr. Stassen. He was most uncooperative for a public official."

It said Stassen had attempted to withhold documentary evidence from the subcommittee last March, and had forbidden aides to submit to preliminary quizzing unless FOA officials were present.

Bender's minority report said Stassen had objected to "star chamber" questioning of his staff, and that "in this he was right."

The majority said the inquiry showed evidence of collusion between Agricultural Construction Co. of Los Angeles and Robert Pinner, the project engineer, to swing the contract to that company.

Pinner worked for the Ralph M. Parsons Co. of Los Angeles, an engineering firm which FOA had hired to supervise some foreign aid contracts. He was fired in the midst of the hearings.

The majority said Stassen had overridden some subordinates in ordering the contract negotiated. It said this firm's $2,430,979.56 bid was $902,062.16 above the "low bid" of Columbian Steel Tank Co. of Kansas City, Mo.

Both Bender and Sen. Mundt (R-SD), another member, dissented from this. Mundt said the bids were not comparable, but that "FOA deserves criticism" for receiving the bids in such a fashion.

Other subcommittee members are Sens. McCarthy (R-Wis.), Jackson (D-Wash.), Symington (D-Mo.) and Ervin (D-NC).

Joe Strawn, 16, had forced his mother from their home Saturday and had threatened another boy before police were called. He then barricaded himself in the house and vowed he would kill any policeman trying to grab him.

He held police at bay for more than an hour until the Rev. Sylvester Hoppe, chaplain at the Catholic Orphanage here, arrived. The boy fired one shot at officers.

Father Hoppe persuaded the boy to let him enter the house, and later they left together. The boy was committed to State Hospital No. 2.

Cape Girardeau Woman Dies; Her Husband Is Held

CAPE GIRARDEAU (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Rosenbaum, her body covered with bruises and burns, died of a skull fracture in a hospital here yesterday, and her husband was arrested.

Authorities said they did not believe the story of Lynn Rosenbaum, 32-year-old Cape Girardeau filling station attendant, that his wife suffered the injuries in an auto mobile accident Saturday night.

Police had been called to the Rosenbaum home early yesterday after Carrie Cononizado, 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. Rosenbaum, appealed to a neighbor for help and said her step-father was beating her mother. Police said they were denied entry to the home and that they took the child to police headquarters.

The 30-year-old Mrs. Rosenbaum died soon after a physician was called to the home and she was removed to a hospital. A pathologist said death resulted from a blow on the back of the head.

Sgt. Percy R. Little of the Missouri Highway Patrol, who arrested Rosenbaum, said the Rosenbaums' car went into a ditch when they were on their way home from a tavern Saturday night but expressed doubt the mishap could have caused her death.

Little said both her eyes were swollen shut and that her face and body bore multiple bruises with burns in a grid pattern on her right hip and shoulder matching the grating of a hot air furnace at the Rosenbaum home.

Mrs. Rosenbaum's daughter told police Rosenbaum beat her mother's head against the floor, kicked her and whipped her with a belt. Rosenbaum was held without charge.

United Church Women to Hold Day of Prayer

The United Church Women of Sedalia will observe the World Day of Prayer on Feb. 17 at the First Christian Church.

Theme of the day is "One Flock, One Shepherd" and services will be conducted at 2 p.m. for adults and 7:30 p.m. for children. The services for children will be held in each of the public schools.

The World Day of Prayer was originated in 1887 when a small group of Presbyterian women came together to pray for home missions. Interest fluctuated through three decades until in 1920 church women, both in Canada and the United States, united in a day of prayer on the first Friday in Lent.

Since then the observance has increased until this year, in 134 countries around the world, many thousands of Christians will observe the day. The celebration will begin on the Tango Islands near the International date line and conclude on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska.

An offering of $500,000 is anticipated, a large part to be contributed by the 20,000 groups which will assemble in the United States and Canada.

Train Derailment In West Virginia Kills Engineer

WILLIAMSON, West Virginia — (AP)—The engine and four cars of a Norfolk & Western Railway west-bound passenger train derailed on a curve east of this West Virginia-Kentucky border city today, killing the engineer and injuring about 20 other persons.

The steam locomotive, tender and three cars of the Norfolk-to-Cincinnati train, the "Pocahontas" tore across the eastbound tracks and plunged over a 40-foot embankment. The engine overturned.

Walt Willard of Buiefeld, W. Va., the engineer, was found dead at the throttle, his watch still running and his glasses unbroken and in place.

Fireman Ernest Hoback, 27 also of Buiefeld, was one of nine injured admitted to Williamson Memorial Hospital. Their injuries were not immediately determined.

In addition, a hospital spokesman said "about 12" others were given emergency treatment and released. Additional passengers were treated for minor injuries by doctors at the scene.

Bad Weather Drops Estimate of Total Vote Likely Tuesday

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A forecast of bad weather in parts of Missouri forced a downward revision today in estimates of the total vote to be cast in tomorrow's special $75 million bond issue election.

Will Davis, chief clerk in the secretary of state's office, guessed last week the total turnout might be around 300,000 or a little less. But today he said the total might drop as low as 275,000 if snow and ice are as widespread as the weatherman expected.

That would make it the smallest turnout in more than 30 years and well below the 325,000 voters who cast their ballots in the cigarette tax and "foundation plan" school election last Oct. 4.

Leaders Plan Action Over Tainted Water

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Municipal, state and organizational representatives will meet here Feb. 8 to plan a campaign against water pollution, especially along the now sluggish Missouri River.

Three officials of the State Division of Health called the meeting Saturday after blaming the metropolitan Kansas City area for current contamination of the big river.

The officials said the river was in good condition above Kansas City but from that point on it often has resembled an open sewer. Lexington, Boonville and Jefferson City have had to quit pumping water supplies at frequent intervals because batches or "slugs" or refuse choked the stream.

The river, from three to six days periods, has been contaminated with "an unusually large amount of suspended organic material and a very pungent, vile odor," the officials said.

The report was written by Albert W. Happy Jr., director of the division's public health engineering section, Warren A. Kramer, chief of water supply and Jack M. Smith, chief of waste disposal. They recommended that immediate steps be taken to cut down the amount of refuse dumped in the river.

Twice in recent years, they said, the Legislature has refused to pass anti-pollution legislation. The purpose of the Feb. 8 meeting is to draw up a new bill. If it doesn't pass muster with the Legislature, the division officials warned, Missouri will ask for federal contamination controls on the Kansas and Missouri rivers where they separate the two states.

The division also notified cities to "complete preliminary plans, cost estimates and arrangements for financing of adequate sewage treatment works by Jan. 1, 1957 and to award contracts for construction by Jan. 1, 1959."

They blamed low water stages this winter, plus big increases in population and industry in the Kansas City area for the current situation.

Collision With Truck Fatally Injures Two

GALENA, Kan. (AP)—A mother and son were injured fatally late last night in the collision of an automobile and an oil company transport at the edge of Galena.

They were Mrs. John Moore, 55, Galena, and James Moore, 13.

Mrs. Moore died at a Joplin, Mo., hospital shortly after arrival. Her son died during the night.

Mrs. Moore's husband apparently was not injured. Another passenger, Mrs. Clara Cook, also of Galena, suffered head cuts and rib injuries.

The driver of the transport, Glenn Wilson Carter, Brookline, Mo., was treated at the Joplin hospital and released.

Church Congregation Robbed by Two Men

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two men walked into the Good Faith Baptist church last night during the evening services.

They ordered at gun point the congregation of six to lie on the floor and then moved to collect the purses and valuables. A woman screamed and fled. The pastor, the Rev. Charles Dillard, advanced on them with a chair.

The men fired two wild shots and fled with one purse containing about $15. No one was hurt.

Registered In Farming program

Seven hundred twenty-seven farmers in Pettis County have registered their intentions to participate in the 1956 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to C. A. Staples, chairman of the Pettis County ASC Committee. Allocated to the county has been $162,237 for the purpose of providing cost-sharing with farmers who are interested in carrying out approved soil and water conservation practices in 1956. Requests received from farmers total $201,607.73 in terms of cost-share values and this represents less than 50 per cent of the total estimated cost of the practices for which program assistance is required.

Cost-sharing is offered under the 1956 Agricultural Conservation Program to stimulate an increased interest in needed conservation practices and cost-share rates are established for practices approved for use in the county at about 50 per cent of the average cost of such practices. In other words, the federal government offers to about match dollars with the farmer in carrying out needed practices which generally would not or could not be accomplished by the farmer by means of his personal resources. Mr. C. A. Staples lists the practices which are approved for use under the 1956 ACP in Pettis County as follows:

1. Establish terrace outlets to dispose of excess water without causing erosion.
2. Standard terraces to detain or control the flow of water and check soil erosion on sloping land.
3. Diversion terraces to intercept runoff and divert excess water to protected outlets.
4. Dams for livestock water to provide for a better distribution of grazing and better pasture management.
5. Constructing and enlarging open drainage systems to dispose of excess water.
6. Erosion control structure to control erosion at end of terrace outlets or waterway channels.
7. Initial establishment of a sod cover consisting of perennial legumes and grasses.
8. Initial establishment of sod cover consisting of perennial grasses and lespedeza.
9. Initial improvement of an established pasture cover for soil protection.
10. Initial establishment of a stand of trees or multiflora rose shrubs in windbreaks or shelter belts on farmland for erosion control, watershed protection, or forestry purpose.
11. Agricultural limestone — by soil test.
12. Establishment of additional acreage of alfalfa in crop rotation to improve soil structures, permeability or water holding capacity. This seeding must be in addition to the 1955 normal seeding of grasses and legumes.
13. Application of rock phosphate materials to permit the use of grasses and legumes for soil improvement and protection.
14. The ASC chairman also reminds farmers that many practices which have been approved for use on the individual farm may be completed at an early date. He also stated that in his opinion this is a good time to take required soil tests or secure technical help in determining the proper location and performing any necessary lay-out work for practices which will be completed later. Technical services are, in all probability, more readily available now than later and this applies to the soil-testing laboratory as well as field work such as staking out farm pond or running terrace lines.

The 1956 Agricultural Conservation Program is administered by farmer-elected committeemen, and the county ASC office is located at 209½ South Ohio. Other members of the committee are Norman D. Gibson and Leonard W. Ragar, and Carl E. Johnson represents the county committee as office manager. The county extension agent, Merle Vaughan, is an ex-officio member of the county committee. C. A. Staples, chairman, invites any farmer who is interested in the Agricultural Conservation Program or other programs handled by ASC personnel to contact the county office for desired information.

FHA Production Loans Used To Improve Farm Systems

Approximately 72 per cent of the production and subsistence loans obtained by farmers from the Sedalia office of the Farmers Home Administration during the past year were used to purchase equipment, livestock and make similar investments in local farms, Oscar H. DeWolf, county supervisor for the agency, said today.

Local farmers are making these investments to set up the kind of farming systems that will make the most of their labor, land and other resources.

Production and subsistence loans are also made for fertilizer, seed, tractor fuel, insecticides and other farm and home operating expenses. The loans bear five per cent interest and repayments are scheduled in accordance with the borrowers' ability to repay. Loans for crop production are repayable when income from the crops is received. Loans for capital investments are repayable over periods up to seven years. The maximum loan is $7,000 and total indebtedness cannot exceed $10,000.

Several steps are taken by the Farmers Home Administration to assist farmers in making the best use of their loan funds. Before a loan is made a complete farm and home plan is prepared by the farm family with the assistance of the agency's local supervisor. The plan shows how the farm will be operated, estimated yields and income, and a budget for farm and home expenses. Provision is made for the production of a large portion of the family's food supply and provision is made in the budget for household expenditures and medical care.

No loan is made unless the farm and home plan shows that the farm when properly operated under normal conditions will produce an income that will provide the family a good living and enable them to repay their debts.

Guides have been established with the aid of the Extension Service and other agricultural agencies that show desirable combinations of enterprises, the amount of land, quantity of livestock, amount and quality of pasture, and feeds, crops, acres of cash crops, and the yield per acre and production per animal that are needed for the successful operation of family-type farms in this area. These guides are used in developing the farm and home plans.

In addition, at the end of the crop year a complete review of the year's operations is made by the farm family and the Farmers Home Administration supervisor to determine which farm enterprises were the most successful and what further improvements are to be made in the coming year.

Were Called Clover and Prosperity Conferences

The original Soils and Crops Conferences were called Clover and Prosperity Conferences and were started as a method to bring information from the experiment station out to farm folks. Apparently the name originated at the University but the conferences were started in several counties the same year. Pettis was one of the original counties.

Records are not complete at the Extension Office and the earliest minutes show George Sneed as vice chairman of the third annual conference in 1927. Bob's dad, J. C. Longan, was chairman of the fourth and fifth conferences and E. B. Helman was for the seventh and eighth.

Next listed was George R. Wilkerson for the 13th through the 19th John Sneed the 20th and 21st, William P. McCune the 22nd, Longan again the 23rd and 24th, and G. L. Haggard the 25th and 26th. George Fichter was chairman of the 27th and 28th, W. P. Nicholson the 29th and 30th, W. C. Corlew of the 31st and Robert (Bob) Longan for the 32nd on an. 28th 1956.

Recent Changes
The title was changed to Soils and Crops Conference about ten years ago. At that time the conferences were being held in the Assembly Room in the morning. Noon lunch was paid for by the delegates at a near-by church and the afternoon program continued there. Attendance was limited to the 100 or so that could get into the church dining room.

About 1948, the conference was moved to the Armory and the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce served sack lunches to some 300 folks attending. Later it was moved to Convention Hall and since the new Cafeteria was built it has been held there. About 375 were served last year by the Chamber.

Chamber also Served First Conference in 1925

I dug up the Annual Report written by county agent, R. S. Clough in 1925. He said, "85 men came into the conference as delegates". "They were entertained at luncheon at noon by the Chamber of Commerce". "Outside of the noon hour they attended strictly to business from 10:30 until 4". "They wound up by forming an organization and electing a president and secretary to call the meeting next year." "Messrs Schowengerdt and Carter were the leading lights in the conference". (No mention was made of the identity of the officers elected for the second annual conference.

Winter Is Repair Time In Farm Shop

By J. S. McKIBBEN
MU Agricultural Engineer

The farm shop is an inviting place to work on cold disagreeable days during January, February, and March. It's a wonderful time to repair machines and build needed equipment in preparation for the busy season ahead. It is also a good time to check up on safety in and around the farm shop.

Probably the first consideration should be given to shop house-keeping or orderliness. There are many more chances for accident and injury in a cluttered shop than one in which there is a place for everything and everything is in its place. A little time planning and straightening up will pay big dividends in safety alone, not to mention the many other advantages.

Clean out work spaces and make every effort to keep them clean. Dispose of junk and rubbish promptly. Provide safe storage for those items that are needed and have a definite place in the shop. Develop the habit of putting away items as soon as you are finished with them.

Little time is required to develop safe working habits which will greatly reduce chances of getting injured in the shop. Tools and work benches should be kept clean and in good working condition. A sharp tool is a much safer tool to use than a dull one. Use safety precautions when operating the various types of power tools commonly used in farm shops.

Inspect electrical wiring, motor leads, and switches for damaged insulation and poor connections. If your shop includes an electric welder, take care to keep cables leading to and from the machine off the floor as much as possible to prevent damage to insulation. Take special care of the cable supplying power to the welder because it carries high voltage.

Inspect your welding helmet or face shield to be sure it is in good condition so that your eyes and face will be properly protected when welding.

Many farmers have oxy-acetylene welding equipment. Leaks in hoses, regulators, and connections are quite dangerous in either the oxygen or the acetylene system. Never attempt to use an oxy-acetylene welder unless equipment is in good condition and working properly.

Oxygen and acetylene cylinders can be quite dangerous unless properly handled. Never leave or store cylinders near hot stoves or other sources of heat because pressures may become excessive and blow out the safety plugs, releasing the contents of the cylinder in the shop. Never use from cylinders unless they are securely fastened in an upright position. An accidental jerk on hoses could upset a cylinder with possibility

Crops Conference Will Hear of New Varieties

Those who attend the 32nd Annual Soils and Crops Conference at Sedalia on Jan. 28th will have an opportunity to hear about the new varieties being suggested by the Missouri College of Agriculture as a result of its experimental work. There will also be some interesting things brought out about some fairly new wheat, oats, soybean and milo varieties.

MU Agriculture School Buildings Are Crowded

By John H. Longwell, Dean, College of Agriculture

Building needs of the Missouri College of Agriculture are closely related to the number of students now enrolled and the number expected in the next ten years. Presently, there are more than 1600 students enrolled and at least 2,400 can be expected within ten years.

The present buildings are crowded. Many of them are old war surplus buildings that were brought in after World War II. These old buildings are expensive to maintain and are a real fire hazard. It would be desirable to replace these buildings with permanent type buildings designed for classroom and laboratory use.

Specifically, a new home economics building is needed very badly. At the present time, many girls who want to major in home economics are unable to register in classes they need, particularly because of a lack of laboratory space.

An addition to the present agricultural laboratory building is also needed. This addition is needed to provide classrooms, laboratories, and offices needed for present work and work that needs to be done as soon as possible.

Most of the college greenhouses are old and obsolete. They are badly located and are not suited for conversion into modern greenhouses. Plans are to relocate the entire greenhouse setup and to build some houses that will be more effective for classroom and research work.

A new livestock pavilion is badly needed to provide space for classes and for many other activities. The present pavilion was built in 1914 when the enrollment was 350 students.

The School of Veterinary Medicine needs a modern hospital and clinic building to replace the old war surplus building now being used. The present building is too small and not suited to needs.

State Good Seed Show Will Be Held Jan. 25

Another event coming up on Jan. 25 is the Missouri State Good Seed Show and Short Course. This year, the show and short course will be held at the Armory Building in Chillicothe.

The seed show will include classes in small grains, soybeans, cotton, hybrid seed corn, rice, sorghums, grasses and legumes.

3rd Annual MU Turkey Day Program Jan. 25

And speaking of poultry programs coming up at the University of Missouri, the Third Annual Turkey Day program will be held at the University Jan. 25. The purpose of Turkey Day is to bring recognized authorities on turkey problems to the state to discuss the latest turkey information with Missouri growers.

Two such authorities in the turkey field will appear on the program this year. Dr. E. P. Johnson, poultry pathologist for the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, will discuss the problem of respiratory diseases in turkeys. Gerry Annin, a graduate of the University of Missouri and now extension poultry specialist in Wisconsin, will talk about turkey management practices.

Gordon Nance, university economist will present the turkey outlook for 1956. Also, there will be a report on the National Turkey Federation.

The Missouri Turkey Federation will provide a turkey luncheon at noon.

If you're interested in turkeys, you are invited to attend Turkey Day, Jan. 25, at the University of Missouri.

Dons Will Try for Their 40th Successive Victory Saturday

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It's put up or shut up for a number of ambitious hopefuls in conference races this week while the San Francisco Dons make a pitch for an all-time winning record in major college basketball.

San Francisco tries for its 40th successive success Saturday in a game with California as college schedules, in a full because of mid-term examinations, stage a comeback.

In its last game, San Francisco routed Fresno State, tying the major college winning streak record of 39 set by Long Island U. in 1935-37 and matched by Seton Hall in 1939-41.

While the Dons have been idle, Dayton's Flyers have taken the spotlight to press San Francisco for the No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press poll. The Flyers are 14-0 for the season. San Francisco is 13-0.

Xavier of Ohio gave Dayton a bit of a fright Saturday night, but after blowing a 19-point lead, the Flyers came to win 81-73.

The other two major college unbeatens also stayed that way over the weekend. Temple (11-0) walloped Lehigh 72-44 and St. Francis of Brooklyn (11-0) edged its borough rival, St. John's, 76-73.

Dayton faces a big challenge Saturday in a game with Louisville (15-1). Temple plays Delaware Thursday and Navy Saturday. St. Francis has a job ahead against Seton Hall Thursday and then plays Ithaca Saturday.

Those are just some of the "test" games on tap this week. Iowa and Purdue, get things started in the Big Ten tonight in a scrap for second-place behind idle Illinois.

Colorado (3-0), trying to repeat as Big Seven champ, returns to action tonight at Iowa State. The Cyclones are a disappointing 1-2 after winning the conference tournament, but they can be tough at home.

Saturday is the big night for tests of title potential. In the Southeastern Conference, high-flying Van-

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Competition in the MIAA basketball race gets to the serious stage this week with every team in action.

Two important games are scheduled for tonight. Cape Girardeau and Kirksville, who are tied for the league lead at 3-1, will host other strong challengers for the crown. Cape will play Warrensburg (2-1) and Kirksville will meet Springfield (1-2).

Both Kirksville and Cape will be busy on their own courts again Saturday night. Kirksville will play Rolla (0-3) and Cape meets Springfield.

Rolla and Maryville (1-2) have a date at Maryville Friday night. In games last Saturday Warrensburg defeated Rolla 71-60 at Rolla and Maryville beat Springfield 56-53 at Maryville.

Tigers Lose In Overtime At Fulton

The Smith-Cotton Tigers lost a heart-breaker in the finals of the Fulton High School Invitational Tournament Saturday night when Montgomery City edged them out in an overtime period 51-48.

The Tigers took it on the chin in losing this game after they had defeated Montgomery City last December in the Jefferson City tournament 64-52. From the early part of the game it appeared as if the Sedalia's might have had a let down and Montgomery City took every advantage of it by outscoring the Tigers in the first two frames.

Trailing 6-11 at the end of the first quarter and 14-29 at the half the dressing room conference apparently brought some results—but not enough. The Tigers flew into their opponents in the third stanza scoring 21-8 to come within in two points of tying Montgomery City up. Then in the fourth period they poured on a little more fuel and scored 11-9 to knot up the contest 46-46.

During the last quarter the teams were tied up six times. In the overtime period the opponents scored five points while the Tigers picked up but two. The Sedalia's had a few bad breaks in the games which proved costly.

Charles Van Dyne although guarded closely was able to muster up eight goals and three free throws to lead the Tiger scoring with 19 points and Walt Kennon came through with seven goals for a 14-point total.

Howard and Sheldon divided Montgomery City honors, both scoring 16 points. Sheldon scored seven field goals and two free throws and Howard had four goals and eight free throws.

Tuesday night the Tigers play Raytown there.

1956 Olympics May Shatter Record for Speed, Hazards

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) — If Cortina's hard ice and melting snows hold out, the 1956 Winter Olympics promise to be the fastest and perhaps the most hazardous on record.

The first events of the 10-day spectacle are scheduled Friday. But already records and bones have been shattered in this little resort which is swarming with the world's greatest skiers, skaters and bobsledders.

While veteran experts wondered who would be injured next, the International Olympic Committee began its annual meeting.

Nothing startling was expected to be forthcoming, although IOC President Avery Brundage of Chicago said the "perplexing" question of televising the games would be discussed.

More records fell yesterday on the ice of Lake Misurina, high in the mountains above Cortina, and on the hazardous, twisting bobsled run just outside town.

Russia's Eugeny Grishin bettered the world 500-meter speed skating record with a breathtaking clocking of 40.2, six tenths of a second better than the old mark. One of his teammates also bettered the record while another tied it, a remarkable display of Russia's skating prowess.

Some other contestants said Grishin jumped the gun and an official admitted there might have been a bad start. The question will be studied, but even so, most experts agreed Grishin would have done 40.5 with a normal start.

The Italians cracked both the two-man and four-man bobsled marks for the 1,700-meter run with times of 1:19.52 and 1:22.79.

Even better times are expected. The Swedes and Americans both are hinting at "mystery sleds" they plan to introduce.

Yesterday, the No. 2 American four-man team's sled, piloted by Monroe Flagg of Saranac Lake, N.Y., went out of control, and the crew miraculously escaped injury.

Meanwhile, skiers from 15 nations have been practicing on the steep, well-prepared but icy slopes of Tofana Mountain for the downhill and slalom events. The bumpy, winding courses already have taken a heavy toll in injuries.

Some skiers blamed the injuries on snow which has been melting daily and freezing solid at night. There has been no snowfall in 13 days and bare spots are cropping up in some areas. All agree, however, that there's enough snow to go on with the Alpine events, scheduled to start with the women's giant slalom Friday.

Calhoun Returns Home On Main Event Card In 10 Round Match

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rory Calhoun, a young middleweight from White Plains, N. Y., who had to go west to make a name for himself, finally breaks into the main event class in his home area tonight with a 10-round match against Jerry Luedee of New Haven at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

Frank Bachman, manager of the unbeaten Calhoun who has had only 16 pro fights, insists his boy should have been named "Rookie of the Year" for 1955 instead of Boston's Bob Murphy.

Calhoun and Luedee will be seen on television (Dumont) starting at 9 p. m. (CST).

Willie Pastrano, the 20-year-old whiz from New Orleans who has impressed many as a future champ faces a rugged night Friday at Miami Beach (NBC radio and TV) when he meets Chuck Spieser of Detroit in another rematch.

Ever since Pastrano outpointed Spieser in Chicago, July 27, the loser has been clamoring for another chance.

The Wednesday series makes its annual stop at Norfolk, Va. for a benefit show with Joey Giambra of Buffalo, N. Y., boxing Al Andrews of Superior, Wis. in 10 rounds (ABC-radio and TV).

Betty Rawls Takes Tampa Women's Open With 5 Stroke Margin

TAMPA, Fla., (AP) — Betty Rawls, the Phi Beta Kappa swimmer from Spartanburg, S. C., IS $900 richer today after winning the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Rawls, four strokes behind Patty Berg as the final round opened, went all out and luck was with her. She knocked four strokes off par with a 71 and wound up with 293 and a five stroke victory margin.

Just as luck smiled on Miss Rawls, nothing went right for popular Patty. Miss Berg, who had shot 71 twice herself earlier and had led every round, lost touch completely and blew to an 80.

That still kept her in second place with 298 and brought her $630.

Mickey Wright of San Diego finished third with 299. Beverly Hanson, Apple Valley, Calif and Fay Crocker, Uruguay, came in at 304.

Aggies Open Tough Road Game Series

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
The Associated Press

Henry Iba's Oklahoma Aggies, off to a fast start at home in the Missouri Valley basketball race, open a series of four tough road games this week at Tulsa, where Hank is expecting nothing but the worst from brother Clarence Iba's last-place Hurricane.

The Aggies (2-0) are tied with St. Louis (4-0) for the Valley lead while Tulsa (0-3) has lost four straight, three at home, after an amazing 10-1 start that included the All-College Tournament championship.

This makes the Cowpokes ripe for an upset and Tulsa much overdue Saturday in the second of two Valley games this week. Tulsa plays at Houston (4-2) tonight.

But the Iron Duke has another reason to fear Tulsa.

While in St. Louis last week to scout the Bills' 89-71 victory over DePaul, Hank told newsmen he had heard reports Tulsa has a good 6-foot 7-inch boy becoming eligible at the turn of the semester, which means in time for their game.

"But I can't find out who he is," Henry said. "Clarence won't tell me."

Henry leads Clarence 10-2 in their coaching rivalry.

The St. Louis-Cincinnati battle Saturday at St. Louis involving two nationally-ranked twice-beaten clubs heads this week's six-game schedule with outside foes. The Valley won both non-league games last week, extending its intersectional mastery to 52 won, 16 lost, a .765 percentage.

Bradley (2-2) takes on Drake Thursday and Marquette Saturday in a two-game road trip. Wichita (1-3) entertains Oklahoma City Tuesday. Detroit (2-5) plays at Drake and Houston is host to Trinity (Tex.) Saturday.

Bradley took a wild 93-85 game at Detroit in the only conference game last week as rookies Gene Herberger and Barney Cable combined for 43 points. St. Louis piled up a 22-2 lead in the first 7½ minutes over a good DePaul club and coasted in. Wichita reached the break-even .500 mark for the season, 7-7, by whipping Drake at Des Moines, 85-76.

Wichita, playing a rugged schedule, is proud of its 6-4 intersectional record, but all other teams in the double-tough Valley are doing better. This shows in the sparkling string of overall records—St. Louis 11-2, Oklahoma A&M 11-3, Houston 10-3, Tulsa 10-5, Bradley 9-5 and Detroit 9-6.

Souhak Wins Open, Golf Players Return To California Play

TUJANA, Mexico (AP) — The touring professionals headed back across the border today for tournament play in California and leading the procession was Mike Souhak, who was loaded with loot.

Hefty Mike won the $12,500 Caliente Open with a 72-hole card of 281. The victory netted the young pro $2,200 in cash and a trophy that is three feet high and must weigh a small ton.

It is topped by a statue of the last king of the Aztecas, by name Cuauhtemoc.

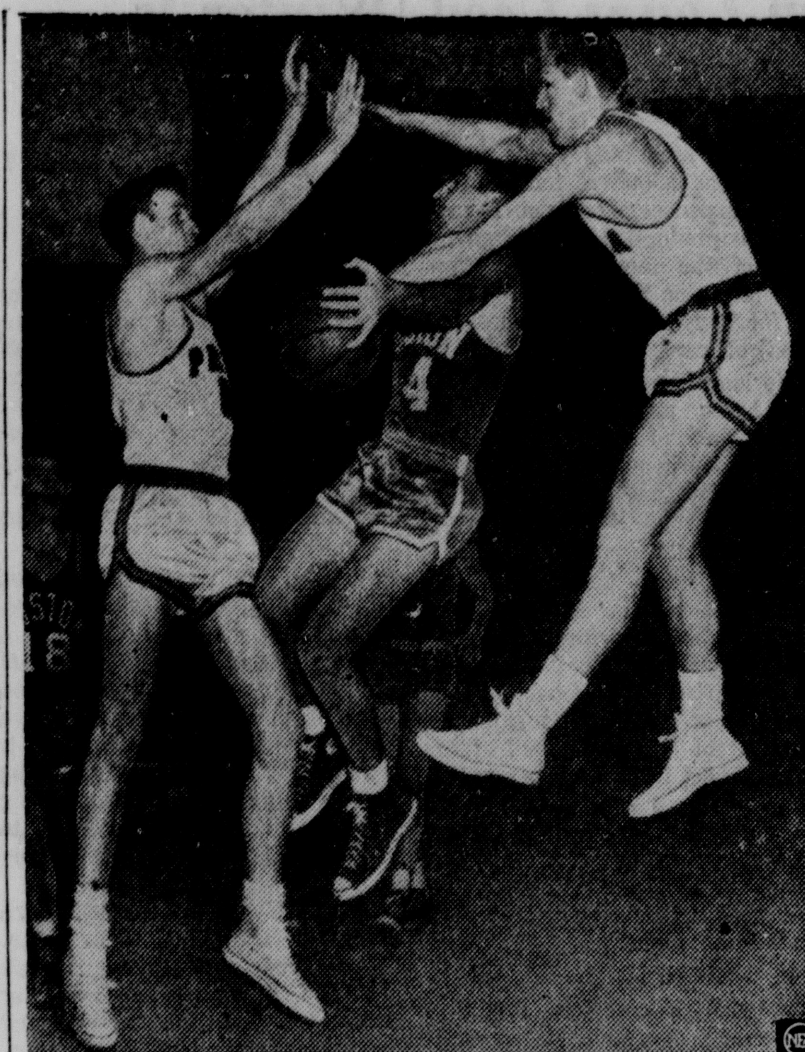

"That's the biggest prize I ever got," said Souhak, who will keep it until the 1957 Caliente Open.

Tommy Bolt won $1,500 with a 283 for second place.

Tied for third place, at 284 were Marty Furgol, Mike Fetschik and Rod Funselt, a brilliant young amateur prospect from Spokane, Wash.

The outcome for other name players: Gene Littler, 285; Billy Maxwell, 286; Lionel Hebert and his brother, Jay, 287; Bo Wininger, 292, and Frank Stranahan, 291.

The sixth annual Masters bowling tournament will be held at Rochester, N.Y., May 13-16.

LOW BRIDGE—Everybody is up in the air as Bob Cousy, center, is fouled driving in for a shot unsuccessfully in Philadelphia. Guarding the Boston Celtics' star are Neil Johnston, left, and Ernie Beck. It takes two to stop a slick shotmaker like Cousy.

Wildcats Put Into Effect Theory About Road Success

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kansas State Wildcats are in step with the theory of the coaches that the Big Seven Conference basketball championship will go to the team that wins 'em away from home.

Although still playing second fiddle to defending champion Colorado (3-0), Coach Tex Winters' K-Staters won their third road game, 58-54, at the expense of the faltering Missouri Tigers at Columbia, last Saturday.

Kansas State also has beaten Iowa State (1-2) and Oklahoma (0-3) on the enemy's boards. The Wildcats only loss was suffered at their Manhattan camp, to Kansas.

The Kansas Jayhawks, who are tied with Kansas State for the runner-up slot at 3-1, have gained two of their conference victories at home.

Colorado won its first two league tilts at Boulder, Colo., then opened a two-game road swing by dumping Nebraska for the second time, 77-50, at Lincoln, Saturday.

The Buffaloes are expected to get a hard test with Iowa State at Ames tonight.

Iowa State will be host for the only two Big Seven games this week. The Cyclones will play Oklahoma at Ames Saturday, while other league members are engaged with changing of school semesters.

Kansas State got 7 points from Fritz Schneider in a span of a minute and a half as the Wildcats rallied in the second half to beat Missouri. Schneider wound up with 21 points, high for the game.

Missouri, playing without the services of its injured ace Norm Stewart, was in front 40-34 at the half and 43-42 midway of the second period when its stalling tactics, plus Schneider's hot streak, turned it for Kansas State. Missouri managed only three field goals the second half and had a chilly game shooting percentage of 23.8. Kansas State hit for 39.2 percent.

Colorado used its full traveling squad of a dozen players for an easy victory over Nebraska. Forward Jim Ranglos was the Buffs' best scorer with 20 points.

Another "newcomer" is Omar (Turk) Lown who, at 32, has blossomed into an effective relief pitcher. The Cubs let him go several years ago only to rehired him after he had posted an impressive 12-5 record at Los Angeles, all in relief.

Then there is outfielder Walt Moryn, who soon will be 30. Moryn was obtained from Brooklyn in the Randy Jackson deal last December. The big fellow had an unimpressive 248 batting mark with St. Paul last season but he slugged 25 homers and drove in 88 runs.

Manager Stan Hack, naturally, also will devote a great deal of attention to the younger newcomers, including pitchers John Briggs, Gene Fodge and Jim Brosnan, shortstop Richie Myers and outfielder Gale Sade, all of whom had outstanding seasons in the minors.

Briggs, a 22-year-old right-hander from Natoma, Calif., was purchased from Sacramento where he impressed Cub scouts with his 15-1 record for the last place club. He pitched 251 innings and completed 14 games.

Brosnan, 26-year-old right-hander was recalled from Chicago's Los Angeles farm club where he posted an impressive 17-10 record. Another Los Angeles importation is George Piktuzis, a hard-throwing 24-year-old left-hander who impressed despite his 7-13 mark. Piktuzis developed a sore arm in mid-season and wasn't right again until the closing weeks.

Other new pitchers include John Andre, 4-4 at Shreveport; John Pyecha, 9-4 at Macon; Bob Thorpe, 10-10 at Des Moines and Vito Valentini, 9-15 at Charleston. All are right-handers.

Wade, obtained from Cleveland a year ago in the Ralph Kiner deal, batted .310 at Los Angeles and stole 23 bases. He is 27.

Myers comes highly recommended as a defensive star. A light hitter, the 25-year-old shortstop batted .256 at Sacramento but he sparked as a glove man.

Willie Mays is the first player in major league history to hit 50 or more homers (he hit 51 last year) and steal 20 or more bases in the same season. He stole 24 bases in 1955.

Budweiser Team Takes Bowling Championship

DETROIT (AP) — A new team — for the first time in four years—reigned today as national match game bowling champion. It was the St. Louis Budweisers.

With a record 26,248 pins for 24 games, the Budweisers snatched the crown last night from Buzz Fazio's Strohs of Detroit, champions three years running.

The Budweisers had a 747 pin edge at the end.

Led by Don Carter, former singles match game champion, the Budweisers ran up a lead of 965 pins in the first 12 games of the championship competition at St. Louis on the previous weekend.

US Chances For Olympic Wins Brighter

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. chances to win Olympic gold medals in the men's and women's sprints and the middle distances brightened over the weekend in performances at the ninth annual Evening Star Games.

Three American runners showed to advantage—Dave Sime of Duke and Isabelle Daniels of Tennessee A&I in the sprints, and Arnie Sowell of Pitt in the middle distances.

Sime and Miss Daniels lowered dash records in the men's 100-yard indoor and the women's 50-yard events. Sowell ran a sparkling 1:51.3 half mile over the slow flat National Guard armory track.

A new name bobbed up among the mile hopefuls. He was George King of New York University, who won the mile Saturday night in 4:11.3.

Only Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen has bettered that time in winning the mile here. He ran it in 4:09.5 last year and then went on to break the indoor record.

Coming from behind to pass three runners on the last lap of the eight-lap course, King squeezed home a yard ahead of Bill Tidwell of Kansas State Teachers and five ahead of the big favorite, Len Truex, former Ohio State star now running for the Air Force.

Sime, of Fair Lawn, N.J., swept the sprint series, the 70, 80 and 100. Andy Stanfield, the Olympic 220 champion, ran second in all three. In the 100, Sime set a new indoor record of 9.5. He tied the standard for the 70 by running that one in 7 seconds flat.

Miss Daniels broke the women's indoor 50-yard mark in 5.8, and equaled the record for the 100 in 11.1.

Mikan Insists He Has Not Lost Touch

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — George Mikan, basketball's onetime scoring colossus who risked his reputation by coming out of retirement, told his fans and critics today to save their sympathy.

He said it firmly and a little impatiently, despite his Minneapolis Lakers' 100-95 defeat by the New York Knickerbockers last night, their third setback in the last four games.

National Basketball Assn. observers glimpsing the retired Mikan in the first week of his comeback have shaken their heads.

"Mikan may help his team" is the consensus, "but he's not the player he used to be. Better he should be remembered the way he was."

Mikan, at 31 still the proud competitor, disagrees.

"Give me two or three weeks more conditioning," he argues, "and I'll be as good as I ever was. I don't think I'm doing so bad right now. I'm averaging nearly a point a minute. What do they want, blood?"

"I don't want anybody's sympathy. I'll stand on my merits."

His merits, while somewhat diminished after a year and a half absence from the game, are important enough to the Lakers.

Six times champions in three different leagues since their formation eight years ago, the Lakers were stumbling along in the bottom half of the NBA's Western Division when Mikan came back.

They've won four of eight since, and Mikan has averaged about 9.5 points a game, playing about 15 minutes a game. NBA games are 48 minutes, however.

He got nine last night in the loss to New York, which Harry Gallatin and Ken Sears engineered by combining for 25 points in the final quarter.

Woodcock Replace Grouse

LANSING (AP) — With a downward trend evident in grouse population in Michigan, more and more hunters are bagging the long-beaked woodcock as a consolation prize on an otherwise luckless day.

The woodcock, also known as a timber doodle, is a relatively small bird weighing from four to 10 ounces. It is still plentiful in Michigan.

The Leaping Lena — with its unbalanced wheels — may be just the thing for hopping over prairies; but for highway driving it's a headache and a Public Nuisance. Unbalanced wheels cause shaky steering. Lane Predicts Cards Cinch For Third

ST. LOUIS (AP)—General Manager Frank Lane predicts his St. Louis Cardinals will be a third place club in the approaching National League baseball pennant chase.

Lane along with his new field manager, Fred Hutchinson, saw no reason why the Cardinals, who finished seventh last year, could not be a first division club this season despite the conspicuous lack of trades. Lane became famous for trading in his Chicago White Sox days.

Lane took over direction of the Cardinals only last fall.

The occasion for the predictions was a "Meet Manager Hutchinson" dinner for the press and radio last night. Some 200 newsmen, a number from surrounding Missouri and Illinois towns, attended.

Hutchinson in his first St. Louis speaking appearance frankly admitted the Cards No. 1 need was pitching. He pointed out that the Redbird hurling staff last year had the poorest earned run average—4.56—in the league.

Both Lane and Hutchinson spoke optimistically of Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, the big Alabama southpaw upon whom the Cardinals are counting heavily.

Mizell, back from a two-year military hitch, has been pitching in the Cuban winter league where he consistently turned in low-hit games.

Lane said he thought the club built around Stan (The Man) Musial, who'll probably stay in the outfield this year, and second baseman Red Schoendienst, would profit by its experience last season when many of its starters were experiencing their first year of big league ball.

The Algonquin, Ill., girl, who had to leave school, began sneezing at a rate of eight to nine per minute. Physicians have reduced her sneeze count to two to three per minute. Airmen in Labrador Dig Out of Worst Blizzard in History

ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (AP)—Five thousand American and Canadian airmen at the Goose Bay air base in Labrador are still digging out after the worst blizzard in the history of the base.

Thirty-six inches of snow fell there Jan. 13-19, bringing the total for January so far to a record 58 inches. The previous high mark—56 inches for all January—was recorded in 1952.

Winds piled drifts 15 feet high across the 10,000-foot runways. An emergency strip was kept open but only one plane flew in during the storm.

The U. S. Northeast Air Command said no one was injured and "prompt corrective action" kept property damage to a minimum.

Accused Burglar Glad To Be in Prison Ward

CLEVELAND (AP)—Accused burglar Robert Hodge was in the City Hospital prison ward today, and might be glad to be there.

Two pals had tried to remove a bullet from his shoulder in their house, using a kitchen knife and a fifth of gin for a pain killer.

Midway in the operation, Hodge regained consciousness and bolted, screaming at the top of his lungs. Police found him lying on a sidewalk and arrested him as a drunk. Surgeons removed the bullet later.

Hodge, 26, was shot by restaurant owner Bert Fant early Friday morning after he and his two accomplices robbed the place of $30, police said.

The story of the attempted operation was told yesterday by Hodge and one of his would-be benefactors, whose name was not available. The third man still was at large.

Heart Attack Takes St. Louis Gorilla

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bobo, a playful and good-humored gorilla which became an invaluable attraction at the St. Louis Zoo, is dead of a heart attack.

Zoo Director George P. Vierheller yesterday said the 8-year-old 275-pound animal was the sort of attraction you can't put a price tag on.

He said a heart attack is an unusual cause of death for a gorilla. Parasites are often the killer.

Roman Church Scores High In Management

NEW YORK (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has received a better than excellent rating in a management study made by the American Institute of Management.

The church is as "efficient as any nonprofit organization in the world," said Jackson Martindell, president of the institute, at a news conference in connection with release of the management report yesterday.

The numerical grade given the church was 88, based on a scale for which 75 is the "minimum for excellence" and 100 is the highest score possible.

Martindell said the yearlong study of the church and its worldwide operations "represents the opinions of hundreds of people and statistics gathered by hundreds of people."

The institute is a nonprofit organization with more than 15,000 individual members, including 5,000 company presidents in the United States and Canada. It is devoted to improvement of management practices by comparative appraisals.

Since its founding in 1948, Martindell said, more than 4,000 corporations and nonprofit organizations have been analyzed. Of these, only 3 have rated 94 points and 17 have been given scores of 90.

The Roman Catholic Church rating was based on operations over the past 50 years and had "nothing to do with dogma," Martindell said.

Man Says He is Jesus And Murders Family

MARTINSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A 31-year-old Sunday school teacher who police said thinks he is Jesus Christ killed his wife and two sons with a shotgun yesterday.

"This is doomsday and I sent them to heaven," Robert Heckman, a truck driver, told Sheriff Victor Young after he was picked up at the home of his father.

The naked bodies of Rick, 11, and Chad, 10, were found lying in a bathtub full of water in the Heckman home at Brooklyn, 11 miles north of here. Outside the bathroom in the hall lay the body of Mrs. Jane E. Heckman, 30.

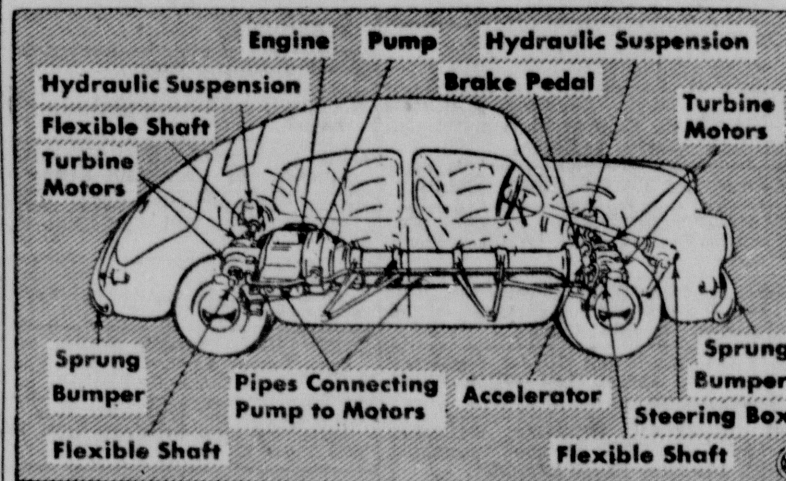

Young said Heckman told him in an oral statement that he shot his wife, then killed the boys.

The sheriff said Heckman, a former farmer who taught Sunday school classes at the Brooklyn Methodist Church, "believes he is Jesus Christ. He gave that as his name when I asked him."

The Morgan County grand jury will be called tomorrow to consider the case, Sheriff Young said.

No charges were filed. Young said he was told Heckman was treated at a private mental institution in Indianapolis last September.

British Wonder Car Makes Plowed Field Like Highway

CUTAWAY SKETCH OF FERGUSON CAR is based on conclusions of British automobile writers. Fluid pumped by engine drives turbine motors connected to wheels, also does the braking.

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON (NEA)—A motorcar that can move sideways like a crab for parking, that can go as fast backward as it can forward, that takes to water like a duck.

These are some of the more fantastic claims put forward for the Ferguson Car, said to be the most revolutionary advance in motorcar design since the Model T Ford.

It is the brainchild of 71-year-old multi-millionaire Harry Ferguson, once known as Britain's Tractor King, who has been perfecting the wonder car for the past two years.

Although details of the Ferguson Car are a closely guarded secret, enough information has leaked out for experts to discount the crab-like and duck-like qualities claimed for the vehicle.

They are agreed, however, that the Ferguson car makes clutch, gear-boxes and driveshafts as obsolete as the horse.

The new car can go over a ploughed field as smoothly as a conventional automobile can roll down a super-highway.

Drivers of Ferguson Cars need never fear skidding, for this would be an impossibility with the radical new braking principle employed.

Although it has been hailed as a "People's Car" and "Britain's Answer to the Volkswagen," the Ferguson Car is not so much a new type of motorcar as it is a system of transmission, braking and suspension.

It could be used in every type of vehicle from economy "baby" cars to the biggest multi-wheeled trucks, according to its backers.

Few people—the Duke of Edinburgh is one—have seen the Ferguson Car in action, but an account of its performance at recent trials witnessed by British Army engineers has leaked out.

According to this account, the car was raced at 70 miles per hour over an ice-glazed road without skidding. Then without slackening its speed it headed straight for a brick wall.

Observers closed their eyes and steeled themselves for the inevitable crash, but instead of the familiar agonized yelp of rubber on macadam followed by a shattering crash, the car stopped with a yard to spare between itself and the wall. Out stepped Ferguson, still sprightly in his seventies, his eyes sparkling behind rimless spectacles.

The son of an Ulster farmer, Ferguson as a young man opened a garage business in Belfast, was an immediate success. He also went in for motor-racing and in

HARRY FERGUSON: Over the ice at 70 mph without a skid.

1909 built and flew the first airplane to look down on Ireland.

As nearly as motoring writers can make it out, in the Ferguson Car the new function of the engine—gasoline or diesel—is to drive an oil pump. A special transmission fluid is pumped along pipes and fed into small turbine-type motors.

The motors "drive the wheels—four or two as desired—through short, jointed shafts or can be built into the wheels themselves. The harder the driving-fluid is pumped through, the firmer and faster spin the wheels.

Conventional brakes are out: To stop the car the fluid is pumped the other way around. The wheels come firmly to a halt, and they cannot lock or skid.

If the fluid is pumped backwards continuously the car goes into reverse. The new transmission is said to give 30 per cent more efficiency.

Racial Integration In Catholic Schools May Come This Year

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Racial integration may come in Roman Catholic schools here this year, a high church official reports, despite protests and demonstrations from parents.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles J. Plaque, chancellor of the New Orleans archdiocese, told newsmen yesterday Archbishop Joseph Rummel intends to proceed with integration.

Msgr. Plaque said the timing of the integration was under study and "no definite decision has been made." He said, however, "it's very possible that it may be this year."

Msgr. Plaque's remarks came after a panel discussion at Ursuline Academy on integration, a topic that split up a meeting of the parents club at Jesuit High School two weeks ago and is becoming a hotter issue in this Deep South city where half of the children attend Catholic schools.

A large block of the 600 attending the Jesuit meeting walked out when the principal, the Rev. Claude J. Stallworth, refused to entertain a resolution calling for continued segregation. A similar resolution was passed with only two dissenting votes at Holy Name of Mary High School last month.

Sudan May Buy Arms From Soviet Nations

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Newly independent Sudan is joining the Arab countries lining up for possible arms deals with Soviet-bloc nations. But the Sudanese are ready to buy from the West, too.

Foreign Minister Mubarak Zarrog said Sudan has sent arms-shopping missions to Britain, France, India, Pakistan and Czechoslovakia.

He told a news conference "nothing definite has been decided yet," but added that his government has no objections to purchasing arms from Communist Czechoslovakia. The Sudanese defense forces total 12,000 men, Zarrog said, representing a doubling in strength in the past two years.

Oil Gusher in Yard Comes From Pipe Line

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When black stuff bubbled up through his front lawn and ran down the street, George Argentin thought he had an oil gusher in his yard. He had, all right, but after an estimated 300 barrels had spouted, it was found to be from a broken oil pipe line belonging to the Standard Oil Co. The gusher was pinched off by a company crew.

Rockets Use Brings Battle Of Services

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army may be edging into a field where the Air Force lays claim to primary interest—strategic air attack against distant enemy war goods centers far behind battle lines.

The Air Force has waged some long and wordy battles with the Navy over the same issue during the last decade.

The impending development of long-distance rockets, which can be designed and used by any of the three services, has broadened the ground for argument.

A weekend public showing of a scale model of the Army's new Redstone missile pointed up the matter. The Redstone itself, with a comparatively modest range of about 300 miles, probably can be considered a tactical weapon for the Army's traditional tactical role.

But in offering the Redstone model for view, the Army suggested that it would be the basis for development of a mid-range, 1,500-mile ballistic rocket.

That range obviously would carry a weapon out of the battle area.

If anyone is going to bombard targets 1,500 miles away, the Air Force feels that should be the mission of its Strategic Air Command's medium and long-range bombers.

Secretary of Defense Wilson has assigned chief responsibility for developing an intermediate range missile to the Army and Navy, working jointly. To the Air Force, he has given primary responsibility for developing an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) of 5,000-mile range.

However, these are "primary" responsibilities. The Air Force is not excluded from development of a mid-range weapon, and the Army-Navy designers are not barred from boosting the range of an intermediate rocket to 5,000 miles.

Air force designers are known to believe that it would be a comparatively simple matter to reduce the full range of an intercontinental missile to provide a mid-range, 1,500-mile missile. Air Force exponents contend that there is no logical reason for going into a separate, mid-range missile project.

Check for Nothing Is Paid to Farmer

DAVENTRY, England (AP)—Farmer David Lloyd reported today he has received nothing from the British government, and has a check to prove it.

The check from the food ministry is for 0 pounds, 0 shillings and 0 pence. Printed across it is the promise that "if presented through a bank within three months, the Postmaster General will pay the amount stated."

Lloyd, it seems, recently sold six heifers. The food ministry guarantees farmers a minimum price per pound on such livestock sales. Lloyd's heifers brought more than the minimum.

"So I was entitled to nothing," he explained to reporter, "and it seems that the ministry decided they should send me a check for it."

"A clerical error," said a blushing official. Will Lloyd present his check for payment?

"On the whole, I think not," he opined. "I believe I'll just frame it."

For 60 years, England successfully guarded the secret of casting crucible steel, a process discovered by an English watchmaker about 1740.

Mother and Children Found Dead in Car

PALOS VERDES ESTATES, Calif. (AP)—Police termed it suicide and double murder yesterday when the bodies of a mother and her two small children were found huddled in a car 100 feet from a church.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Betty Lou Brewer, 32, her son Terry, 4 and daughter Susan, 3. Police Chief J. A. Smith said a vacuum cleaner hose ran from the exhaust into the car.

Mrs. Brewer's husband Everett told officers he knew of no reason why his wife, a former airline stewardess, might want to kill herself and the children.

Hal Boyle's Column—

US Husbands Have Become Housemaids, And Like It

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a pavement Plato: Do American wives really exploit their husbands?

Mrs. Sidonie Gruenberg, an authority on family life, detects a tendency in young wives to take advantage of their husbands by having them do too much housework.

Mrs. Gruenberg, who headed the Child Study Association of America for a quarter century, objects to this "selfish use of a husband for a wife's personal advantage without regard to his own need."

She feels this husband-exploitation is probably an unconscious feminine reaction against past generations of wife-exploitation by husbands.

But, warning that a man who is forced to do too many maid chores may start staying away from home, Mrs. Gruenberg advances this revolutionary thought: "Men have a right to find in their households a little peace" and are entitled to "a little pleasure, a little protection."

Well, naturally, kind words like this are enough to make the average husband break right down and cry out of pure gratitude. He isn't used to being appreciated. He is more accustomed to being ridiculed.

The European male for some time now has looked down on the American husband as a forlorn puppet of his womenfolk.

Manhood in America takes a beating from almost every quarter. It is drummed into men from birth now that they are intellectually inferior to women, emotionally more unstable, shorter-lived, and more susceptible to disease and accident. The knight has lost his armor. Man has become the second sex.

In the popular family situation comedies on television the husband is generally portrayed as an out-of-control around the house who is eternally being outwitted by his children and who couldn't even hold his job except for the shrewd behind-the-scenes machinations of his wife. He never gets a raise from his boss. She gets it for him.

America's march toward matriarchy goes steadily forward. Frankly speaking, Mrs. Gruenberg's friendly pat on the back for the U. S. husband, as welcome as it is unexpected, has probably come too late.

It is doubtful whether most husbands want to be the king in their own castle again and rule the roost as they once did.

To be a boss carries with it the penalty of having to shoulder a lot of responsibility, and many men are tired of responsibility. Why not let a woman be the boss, and lean on her warm comforting shoulder? It's easier.

Why should a husband holler about drying a few dishes and mending a few rugs for a smart wife who can take most of the rest of life's burdens from him, tell him when to blow his nose, and how to make more money at the office?

As a matter of fact, why not instead do so much around the house that the wife will have time to become a family breadwinner, too? One fourth of the nation's married women now hold down outside jobs, and more will.

It is too late to stay the steady reversals of the traditional roles of husband and wife. The man has come into the kitchen to stay. He's at home by the range there. No, don't take away Papa's new household chores. About the only manly pride he has left is his belief that, while Mama may beat him in any other field, he at least can equal her as a housekeeper.

Set Date For County Garden Meet Jan. 31

The County Garden Meeting is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 31. It will be in the assembly room of the courthouse and will start at 1:30 sharp so as to be through by 3 o'clock. Garden leaders of 4-H Clubs have received special invitations and foods leaders of Home Economics Clubs are urged to attend. However, the meeting is open to the public and anyone interested in gardens is invited and encouraged to come.

Two years ago local garden seed dealers were asked if they would like to have a separate session with the gardening specialist. At such a meeting new varieties, new insecticides, etc. could be discussed. The meeting was held in the Extension Office with four people from two stores attending. Last year it grew into a dinner meeting at a local cafe with representatives of six stores participating. This year it will again be at a local cafe and will be held on the evening of the general meeting. Seed dealers from neighboring towns have also been invited to take part this year.

Senator in Hospital For Cold Treatment

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.) was in a hospital today for treatment of what his Washington aide called a cold.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, had attended a testimonial dinner here Thursday night for Florida's Sen. George Smathers.

The aide said he was suffering with the cold earlier in the week and that he showed a slight temperature rise while here. He was placed in St. Francis Hospital Friday night.

A friend said doctors told Russell he may be able to leave the hospital tomorrow.

Kentucky Man Drowns Under Ice of Creek

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Stuart W. Frye, 28, drowned under the ice of frozen Stoner Creek yesterday after a heroic effort to rescue him.

His brother-in-law James Matherly, 28, said the ice broke under them as they started out to check some animal traps. Both fell into the water.

Matherly regained his footing on the ice and tried to reach Frye with a long tree limb, but the ice broke again, dropping Matherly into the stream a second time.

Again he climbed free and obtained another limb. Frye, too numb to grasp it with his hands, grabbed the limb with his teeth. He was nearly ashore when his grip failed and he sank under the ice. The body was recovered later.

Spell of Luck

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—At the Garden Villas school teacher Mae Turnbow put on an old-fashioned spelling bee for third-graders and the girls spelled down the boys as easy as pie.

But the boys saw the girls passing something back and forth during the match, investigated, and lodged a complaint.

A rabbit's foot had been passed to each girl as her turn came.

Bad Weather Delays A New Year's Party

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP)—With shouts of "Happy New Year," 32 persons dropped in on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollard yesterday.

For the past 10 years the Pollards have celebrated New Year's Eve with four Rhode Island couples, but bad weather prevented the reunion this year—until yesterday.

The four Rhode Island couples and their 24 children arrived in a chartered bus and stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Pollard and the four Pollard children for about three hours.

"If the gas pipeline ran down main street"

You'll never see anything like this in reality, of course. The great underground pipeline that transports natural gas from producing fields stops at your town border. There your local distribution company takes over the job of actually bringing this best of fuels into your home.

But if the big line did run down Main Street, it would be a symbol of the many ways gas—with its clean blue flame—works for you and your community, and of the important role it plays in your daily living.

That clean blue flame cooks and refrigerates your food, heats your water, dries your laundry, cools, warms, air-conditions your home—and does all the other household tasks that ONLY gas does so well.

In industry, too, that dependable, extra-controllable clean blue flame aids in the manufacture of many of the articles you wear, eat or handle.

But bringing nature's prime fuel from gas well to you isn't the pipeline's only function. Through attracting gas-using industries, through local, state and federal taxes, through construction, maintenance and line-station payrolls, it contributes substantially to community prosperity wherever it goes.

Producers, pipeliners, local distributors—your gas industry team—are productive citizens of their communities and good examples of free enterprise at work. This team will continue to do its job... with its tremendous investments and heavy financial risks... so long as there is the incentive to find, produce, transport and distribute natural gas to the homes and industries of the nation.

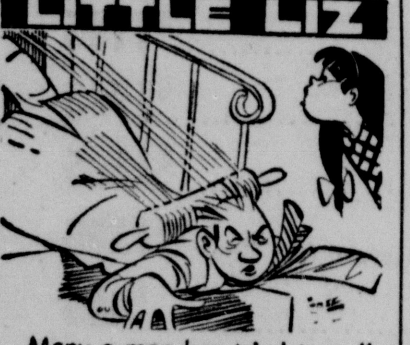

"Natural gas is today's outstanding bargain. It's worth every cent we pay for it... and then some!"
